

Kovo RCM Earns HBMA Compliance Accreditation

Setting the standard for trust in revenue cycle management and highlighting leading efforts in data security, fraud prevention, and compliance

LAGUNA BEACH – April 21, 2026 – The Healthcare Business Management Association (HBMA) today announced that Kovo RCM has renewed its accreditation under the HBMA Compliance Accreditation Program for revenue cycle management (RCM) companies. This program evaluates organizations on their adherence to key federal healthcare regulations, including safeguarding patient data under HIPAA, strengthening cybersecurity practices, and preventing fraud, waste, and abuse in medical billing.

Kovo RCM is a revenue cycle management company based in Riverton, UT that supports independent physicians and healthcare providers across more than 28 states. The company specializes in simplifying complex billing processes, improving financial outcomes, and enabling providers to focus more on patient care through a combination of human expertise and intelligent technology.

“At Kovo RCM, we are focused on streamlining processes and leveraging intelligent technology to help providers operate more efficiently and achieve stronger financial performance,” said Chris Burch, President of Kovo RCM. “This accreditation reinforces our commitment to delivering secure, compliant, and high-performing revenue cycle solutions for our clients.”

“HBMA understands that medical billing and revenue cycle management companies operate in a complex, highly regulated profession, fraught with high consequences for fraud, waste and abuse. By achieving HBMA compliance accreditation, Kovo RCM has demonstrated by independent evaluation that their practices surpass federal requirements to protect confidential patient medical information, secure their data systems, and prevent fraud,” said Jennifer Hicks, president of HBMA.

The HBMA Compliance Accreditation Program was developed by the RCM industry, in collaboration with HBMA, to provide an independent assessment of a company’s ability to meet regulatory requirements. The program evaluates compliance with HIPAA, Health and Human Services Office of Inspector General (OIG) standards on fraud, waste and abuse, the Stark Law, federal Anti-Kickback Law and the OIG Work Plan. It includes a comprehensive review of RCM companies’ policies and practices across key areas, including employee training, data security and patient information protection, documentation handling, regulatory compliance, disaster preparedness and human resources protocols such as background checks and onboarding.

To learn more about revenue cycle management solutions for healthcare organizations, visit <https://kovorcm.com/>.

About Kovo RCM

Kovo RCM provides revenue cycle management services designed to help healthcare providers streamline operations, improve collections and gain actionable financial insights. Serving physician practices across multiple specialties nationwide, the company combines experienced billing professionals with advanced analytics to help healthcare organizations reduce administrative burden and focus on patient care. For more information, visit <https://kovorcm.com/>.

